HUSKERS FOCUSED ON TAKING NEXT STEP

The Nebraska women's tennis program has its sights set squarely on a top-half finish in the Big Ten Conference and a bid to the NCAA Tournament in 2018.

"We're excited about the upcoming season," Nebraska Coach Scott Jacobson said. "We believe that this is the highest level program we've had since our 2013 NCAA qualifying program."

After producing the best season in school history with a 24-6 record, a Big Ten Conference Championship and a trip to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2013, the Huskers went through a rebuilding year in 2014.

Jacobson, who was the 2013 Big Ten Coach of the Year after leading the Huskers to the conference title in just their second season in the league, took the Huskers a step forward in 2015 with a 12-12 record while moving into the spectacular Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center.

In 2016, Nebraska made more strides with a 17-8 overall record to solidify the upward trajectory of the program.

Last year, the Huskers were knocking on the door of the NCAA Tournament, finishing with a 19-8 record, including a 16-2 mark at the Dillon Tennis Center. The Big Red knocked off Minnesota in the first round of the Big Ten Tournament, but the Huskers finished a step or two short of making the Big Dance.

Now, with another year of experience under its belts, a Husker team loaded with talented juniors and sophomores is ready to break through behind proven seniors Katerina Matysova and Brianna Lashway.

"With the return of the majority of our team as well as the addition of Brianna Lashway, Emily Rees and Marina Cozac, we believe that there is tremendous depth within our program," Jacobson said. "In addition, we should be stronger in the upper part of our lineup as well as the lower part of our lineup."

The Huskers, who return nine of 12 letterwinners from the 2017 roster are joined by transfers Lashway (Missouri) and Cozac (DePaul) and talented freshman Rees.

"We are grateful to all three for entrusting us with their future," Jacobson said. "We believe all will have a positive and powerful impact on our Husker family moving forward."

According to Jacobson, Lashway comes to Nebraska playing the best tennis of her college career. No stranger to the No. 1 spot, Lashway won 10 matches primarily out of the top singles spot in Missouri's lineup last spring. As a sophomore, she won 18 singles matches and 20 in doubles play.

Cozac is also expected to be a valuable addition to an already talented roster.

"We believe Marina is going to set the standard for work ethic at Nebraska," Jacobson said. "Not only has she proven to be a phenomenal player, Marina is also a phenomenal person."

Rees is expected to add a competitive edge to the Big Red roster, after choosing the Huskers over Wisconsin and Missouri among other schools.

The new Huskers will help replace the departure of 2017 seniors Lisa Andersson and Mary Hanna, who combined for 30 singles wins last season.

The 2018 Huskers will be led by senior captain Matysova, who went 13-0 in spring singles action, including 3-0 in Big Ten play, before earning her undergraduate degree in 2017.

Matysova missed much of Big Ten play last year with an injury, but the Huskers still fought their way to a 5-6 conference mark and a bid in the Big Ten Tournament.

The return of a healthy Matysova could go a long way in helping the Big Red climb in the final Big Ten standings.

Junior captain Paula Del Cueto Castillo also returns after recording 12 singles victories primarily playing in the top half of the Husker lineup last year.

The Spaniard was also a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and earned Nebraska's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award for her leadership standards on and off the court.

Del Cueto Castillo is joined by fellow juniors Vasanti Shinde and Elizabeth Gould. Shinde enters the spring with 33 career singles wins and 41 career doubles victories. Last year, she went 10-9 in the spring playing out of the top two spots in the Big Red lineup.

Hayley Haakenstad serves as an anchor for the young Huskers as a third team captain. The sophomore from Chanhassen, Minn., notched 11 singles wins for the Huskers as a freshman in 2017. She also went 19-9 overall in doubles play.

Haakenstad leads a talented group of returning sophomores that includes Claire Reifeis, Jeannie Lozowski, M'Balia Bangoura and Emma Worley.

Reifeis, who won a singles championship at the Minnesota Invitational during the 2017 fall season, had one of the best freshman seasons in recent history with 20 singles wins, including a 12-10 mark playing out of the top half of the Husker lineup in the spring. She also had a hand in 20 doubles wins as a freshman, including a 15-6 mark with Haakenstad. The duo went 13-5 during the spring, including 7-3 in Big Ten play.

Lozowski posted 15 singles wins, including nine in the spring, while adding a 9-3 mark in doubles play a year ago. Bangoura pitched in nine singles wins and seven more in doubles as a freshman.

Jacobson believes outstanding team chemistry will play a major role in NU's success this season.

"This is a cohesive unit that loves and cares about each other and loves competing as a team."

SCOTT JACOBSON

Head Coach 27th Season Blue Earth, Minn.

HONORS & AWARDS

Big Ten Regular-Season Champions (2013)
Big Ten Co-Coach of the Year (2012)
Big 12 Coach of the Year (2005, 2010)
Six NCAA Tournament Appearances (2005, 2006, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013)
Nebraska Herman Award (Team GPA) (2005, 2006, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014)

JACOBSON'S COACHING PHILOSOPHY

"By helping our student-athletes develop the values of dedication, cooperation, compassion and the ability to handle adversity with courage, we help them grow as both tennis players and as people. Through a belief in one another and a positive approach to competition, we can build meaningful relationships off the tennis court and continue a winning tradition on it."

Entering his 27th season as Nebraska women's tennis head coach, Scott Jacobson has had his Huskers consistently ranked among the top 75 teams nationally for nearly 20 years, while making regular NCAA Tournament appearances the past decade.

A three-time conference coach of the year, Jacobson owns 389 victories at the helm of the Huskers and has averaged nearly 15 wins per season, while laying the foundation for the Nebraska program brick by brick since his first season in 1991-92. His program has been defined by consistent success. Nebraska produced 17 consecutive winning seasons from 1997 through 2013, with the Huskers producing a top-75 final national ranking 15 times.

He has guided the Husker program to six NCAA Tournament bids in the past 10 seasons and led Nebraska to the Big Ten Conference regular-season title in 2013. From 2010 to 2013, Jacobson's Huskers produced the most successful stretch in school history, winning 20 or more matches for four straight seasons to advance to four consecutive NCAA tournaments. The Huskers finished No. 16 in the final ITA rankings in both 2012 and 2013, including the program's first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in 2013.

Since that Sweet 16 appearance, Coach Jacobson has been building the women's tennis program back to a point of national prominence, aided by the addition of the world-class Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center. Over the past four seasons, the Big Red has more than doubled its win total from eight wins in 2014 to 19 victories in 2017.

In 2017, NU had its most successful season since its Big Ten championship season in 2013. Under Jacobson, the 2017 squad amassed more than 140 individual singles and doubles wins in the spring alone. The team earned a national ranking at No. 39 and earned a spot in the Big Ten Tournament for the first time since 2013, where NU defeated Minnesota and advanced to the second round.

The top-40 national ranking and Big Ten Tournament victory culminated a four-year process to reload the program after Nebraska lost several seniors from the 2013 season which produced the greatest team and individual season in school history.

Not only did Nebraska finish with a No. 12 ranking and advance to the program's first Sweet 16 in 2013, the Huskers experienced tremendous individual success as well. Mary Weatherholt, the greatest player in program history, capped her Husker career by finishing as the runner-up at the 2013 NCAA Singles Championship. Weatherholt was a first-team All-American in both singles and doubles play in 2013, as she teamed with fellow All-American Patricia Veresova to advance to the final eight in the doubles competition.

Off the court, Weatherholt claimed one of the NCAA's top overall honors as a winner of an NCAA Top Ten Award in 2014. She was the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year in both 2012 and 2013, and she was Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year in 2012-13. Weatherholt added a Big Ten Sportsmanship Award, while claiming the ITA Cissie Leary Sportsmanship Award, which is presented to the nation's top women's tennis student-athlete.

Jacobson guided Weatherholt to 208 career combined wins, the program's first player to reach 200 victories. In addition to their first-team All-America honors, Weatherholt and Veresova both earned first-team All-Big Ten accolades, while fellow senior Stefanie Weinstein claimed second-team honors.

The Huskers' record-breaking 2013 season followed on the heels of a 2012 campaign that featured a 24-5 overall record and a 9-2 Big Ten mark in Nebraska's first year in the conference. Weatherholt, who returned to the court after suffering a knee injury as a sophomore in 2011, again led the Huskers along with Veresova, Weinstein, Janine Weinreich and senior Madeleine Geibert. A three-time all-conference pick both athletically and academically, Geibert established the NU record with 181 combined wins before Weatherholt broke the record the following season. Jacobson earned 2012 Big Ten Co-Coach-of-the-Year honors after leading the Big Red to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

In Nebraska's final season in the Big 12 Conference in 2011, Jacobson led the Huskers to a 20-win campaign despite dealing with the loss of Weatherholt to a knee injury early in the fall. NU finished fourth in a loaded Big 12, producing a 7-4 conference mark while qualifying for their third straight NCAA Tournament. Geibert and Veresova both earned All-Big 12 honors. Jacobson capped his association with the Big 12 Conference by leading seven Huskers to Big 12 individual titles and 26 first-team All-Big 12 awards.

In 2010, Nebraska posted the first 20-win campaign in school history, finishing with a 22-6 overall record that included a 9-2 Big 12 mark and a third-place conference finish. Jacobson was named Big 12 Coach of the Year for the second time, while leading the Huskers to their first-ever NCAA Tournament victory with a first-round win over Illinois.

Jacobson, who led Nebraska to its first NCAA Tournament with an 18-4 record and a 9-2 Big 12 mark in 2005, was also the 2005 Big 12 Coach of the Year. The 2006 team added a 17-10 overall record while featuring Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year Kim Hartmann on its way to a second straight NCAA Tournament bid.

While Nebraska has seen its most success on the court under Jacobson, the veteran head coach also emphasizes excellence in the classroom and in the community. During his career, Jacobson's Huskers have earned numerous academic all-conference accolades. Jacobson also guided the athletic career of two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American Imke Reimers. The women's tennis team also earned the Herman Award four straight years from 2011 to 2014. The award is presented to the NU team with the top overall grade-point average.

Before becoming head coach in 1991, Jacobson helped the Nebraska men's team to an 84-86 record as an assistant from 1979 to 1989. He also spent 11 years as the assistant director of the Tennis and Life Camp in St. Peter, Minn. He has been an employee of the camp for 23 years.

In 1995, Jacobson was awarded the David Aasen Award by the staff of the Tennis and Life Camp. The award honors enthusiasm, energy, sense of humor, high standards of sportsmanship, a love of teaching and a genuine concern for others.

Originally from Blue Earth, Minn., Jacobson has been involved in many activities in Nebraska. In the past he has been an instructor for the Lincoln Racquet Club and coordinator for the Husker Netters Booster Club.

DALMAGRO'S COACHING PHILOSOPHY

"I believe in assisting the student-athletes to reach and experience their full potential. To have an environment that encourages the athletes to learn and develop on and off the court. By using the values of hard work, dedication, passion, discipline, mental toughness and integrity, while focusing on the process, and not so much on the end results. My goal is to inspire and offer a positive approach in all areas that will help each athlete be the best they can be, and become a better person overall."

German Dalmagro (pronounced Her-mahn Dal-mahg-ro) is in his fifth season with the Nebraska women's tennis team in 2017-18.

Dalmagro and the women's tennis team produced a strong season in 2016-17 with a 19-8 record, including a Big Ten Tournament victory over Minnesota under Dalmagro's combined leadership with Head Coach Scott Jacobson.

The 2016-17 season brought a two-win increase for the Big Red, another step in the direction of a bigger winning season and another Big Ten Tournament visit in 2018.

In Dalmagro's second season with the Huskers (2015-16) the team saw the impacts of Dalmagro's coaching philosophy and an upswing in overall team victories for the spring season.

In 2014-15, the Huskers produced a four-match improvement in the win column from their 2013-14 campaign, which was Dalmagro's first on the Nebraska staff.

With a solid group of returning talent and the addition of experienced transfers Brianna Lashway and Marina Cozac, as well as freshman Emily Rees, the women's tennis team hopes to push even farther into success in its third season at the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center.

Dalmagro is a former member of the Kansas women's tennis coaching staff, spending six seasons with the Jayhawks from 2006 through 2013.

In his first season with the Huskers in 2013-14, Nebraska claimed its fourth straight Herman Award for the highest team GPA among all Nebraska women's sports. Four Huskers earned academic All-Big Ten Ten honors in 2014, while seven Huskers added academic All-Big Ten accolades in 2015.

In his final season with the Jayhawks in 2012-13, the team went 11-10 and made it to the Big 12 Tournament where they fell in the second round. At KU, his responsibilities included on-court coaching, organizing travel and aiding in recruiting. His strong ties to the southern states landed standout products for KU during his time on staff. Dalmagro joined Kansas following a very successful playing and coaching career at Division II West Florida.

Dalmagro was an assistant coach of both the men's and women's teams at UWF prior to joining the KU staff. During his year with West Florida, both teams reached the semi-finals of the NCAA Tournament. Dalmagro's coaching stay at West Florida was brief, but his impact produced one of the most decorated tennis players in school history.

Dalmagro had a successful individual career at UWF and Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College. Dalmagro was a member of UWF's back-to-back NCAA Division II Championship teams in 2004 and 2005, and was part of the 2005 Gulf South Conference Champion team and 2004 Gulf South runner-up squad. Dalmagro's career was highlighted by All-America honors in 2004 (doubles), 2003 (singles and doubles) and 2002 (singles and doubles). Dalmagro was ranked nationally as high as No. 3 in doubles and No. 11 in singles.

Dalmagro saw success off the court while at West Florida, as he helped the Argonauts earn the 2004 National Award for highest team GPA and was named to the Dean's List.

Prior to transferring to West Florida, Dalmagro played at ABAC. At ABAC, he was the NJCAA Player of the Year in 2003 and the individual national champion in 2002. Dalmagro's tennis coaching experience stretches beyond West Florida. In 2004 and 2005, Dalmagro served as the head coach at the Nike Tennis Camp in Lawrenceville, N.J., and also coached at Abraham Baldwin College in Tifton, Ga., from 2002 to 2003.

Dalmagro graduated from West Florida, earning a degree in business administration with a specialization in management. In 2016 he and his wife Karly, welcomed a son, Enzo.

BILL MOOS

Director of Athletics First Season Washington State (1973)

Honor the past. Live the present. Create the future.

Nine simple words that carry impressive significance and undeniable responsibility. Words that Nebraska's new athletic director uses to lead his programs and set the tone for building champions in competition and in life.

William H. (Bill) Moos was named Nebraska's Athletic Director on Oct. 15, 2017, and fully assumed those responsibilities on Oct. 23.

Moos, who became the 15th athletic director in the history of the storied Cornhusker program, brings nearly 25 years of experience as an athletic director at three Division I schools (Washington State, Oregon, Montana) with him to Nebraska.

More importantly, he brings an impressive track record of success in building outstanding programs, developing long-term relationships, and for doing what is best for his schools, its fans and most importantly, its student-athletes.

"When you name the top three, four, five athletic programs in the great positions as an athletic director, Nebraska is in that same breath," Moos said at his introductory press conference at Memorial Stadium. "I want you to know that my motto has always been, in the 25 years I have been a Division I athletic director and it will be here too is very simple - honor the past, live the present, create the future."

Moos came to Lincoln after spending seven-plus years at Washington State (2010-17). He previously served 12 highly successful seasons as the athletic director at Oregon (1995-2007).

During his time at his alma mater, Moos wasted little time in making his impact felt in Cougar Athletics, spearheading a department-wide rebranding effort with Nike while securing a 10-year, $35 million marketing rights agreement with IMG College.

In addition, the 2004 WSU Alumni Achievement Award winner gained Regents approval for a $130 million addition and remodel of Martin Stadium, featuring a remodeled press box with luxury seating, including suites, loge boxes and club room. Also included in the project was a state-of-the-art video board and an 80,000-square-foot football operations building that served as the stadium's showpiece and opened in May 2014.

As the dean of Pac-12 athletic directors, Moos was at the forefront of the conference's procurement of a 12-year, $3 billion television contract with FOX and ESPN, a landmark agreement in college athletics.

Under Moos' direction, the Cougar Athletic Fund's Annual Giving program saw an 81 percent increase in gifts while CAF donor members rose from nearly 4,000 to more than 7,500.

Additional facility enhancements under Moos included a center-hung video board in Beasley Coliseum that was installed prior to the 2011-12 season, giving Cougar basketball one of the premier fan experiences in the conference. An indoor golf hitting facility was also completed in early 2013, and Lower Soccer Field underwent a major renovation making the venue TV-ready while also providing one of the best playing surfaces on the West Coast, along with the addition of lights and a new scoreboard.

Other enhancements were made to the Moobery track facility, Bailey-Brayton Field, the basketball practice gym, Gibb Pool and the Simmelink Indoor tennis courts.

In Moos' seven years at WSU, Cougar student-athletes and coaches accounted for 805 academic all-conference selections, 130 all-conference accolades, 45 All-America honors and three Pac-12 Coach-of-the-Year honors.

Moos served as Oregon's director of athletics from July of 1995 to 2007. While at Oregon he oversaw a 17-sport athletic department that grew to national prominence during his tenure.

Oregon's annual athletic department budget grew from $18.5 million in his first year to more than $40 million by 2007, becoming 100 percent self-sufficient during that time. Under his direction the Duck Athletic Fund donor base increased from 4,930 to 12,290, resulting in an annual gifts increase from $4.1 million to $15.3 million.

Moos initiated more than $160 million in facility improvements while at Oregon. Included in that was the $90 million Autzen Stadium renovation in 2002, which added 12,000 new seats, 32 new suites, a new Club at Autzen and a new press box to the stadium. In his 12 years, the Ducks ranked first in Pac-10 football attendance 11 times, reaching 100 percent capacity in each of those seasons.

During Moos' tenure, Oregon athletics captured 13 Pac-10 championships across six different sports. He increased opportunities for women by adding two intercollegiate programs, soccer and lacrosse, and negotiated an all-inclusive shoe and apparel contract with Nike, one of only 14 in the country at the time.

From an academic standpoint during Moos' tenure, Oregon student-athletes collected 722 academic all-conference selections, 34 Academic All-America selections, nine NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipients and one NCAA Top Ten Award.

During his first stint as a collegiate athletic director at Montana (1990-95), Moos created an academic support program and hired its first athletic academic coordinator, developed a facility enhancement plan that created more than $4 million in improvements, and lifted the school's fund-raising efforts to show a 300 percent increase in private and corporate gifts.

Academically, Montana student-athletes were equally successful as the athletic department achieved a graduation rate 20 percent higher than the general university enrollment. Under Moos' watch Montana garnered 269 academic all-conference selections, five Academic All-Americans and two NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipients.

Moos began his athletic career as an athletic administrator in 1982 as assistant athletic director at Washington State. He also served as the school's associate athletic director (1988-90).

At Washington State, he was director of development for more than five years and associate director for nearly two years, supervising all external operations. Prior to that, he managed and owned private businesses in Washington and Oregon for eight years. He was a student assistant football coach at Washington State for the 1973 season, then spent part of 1974 in Washington, D.C., serving as a government intern.

Raised on a wheat and cattle ranch in eastern Washington, Moos attended high school in Olympia when his father served in the governor's cabinet. Moos earned his bachelor's degree in history from WSU and was a three-year letterman in football before concluding his collegiate career by representing Washington State in the 1972 East-West Shrine All-Star Game in San Francisco.

He served as co-captain on the Cougars' 1972 squad and garnered first-team All-Pac-8 Conference honors.

Moos and his wife Kendra have three daughters: Christa, Brittany and Kaiti; and two sons, Bo and Benjamin.

Mary Hanna, a force in Nebraska's singles and doubles lineups, produced a solid career with 126 combined victories. As a senior in 2016-17, Hanna went 21-3 in singles competition. She also posted an impressive 11-3 mark at No. 1 double, partnering with Lisa Andersson, Vasanti Shinde and Paula Del Cueto Castillo.

The Nebraska women's tennis team continued to climb the ladder in the Big Ten standings with a successful 2016-17 season.

The Huskers finished with a 19-8 overall record in 2016-17, the most wins for Nebraska since its Big Ten Tournament championship in 2013.

Nebraska also earned a trip to the 2017 Big Ten Tournament, where the Huskers advanced to the second round after a thrilling 4-3 victory over Minnesota. The win at the conference tournament avenged a regular-season setback to the Gophers.

The 2016-17 Huskers continued to thrive in their second season at the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center. The Nebraska tennis program's spectacular on-campus facility helped the Huskers to an outstanding 16-2 record on its home courts.

A truly world-class competitive and training facility, the Dillon Tennis Center includes six indoor and 12 outdoor courts with championship lighting conditions and Olympic-caliber surfaces. The courts also provide premier seating for 1,400 spectators and outstanding views for many more to roam and take in all the action across the courts.

Nebraska appeared to be on the verge of a breakthrough season, racing to a 15-0 record to start the season, including a perfect 14-0 mark at the Dillon Tennis Center.

The Big Red was nothing short of dominant in its first 15 matches, outscoring the opposition by a combined 88-8.

Three of those lost points came at the hands of No. 35 Wichita State, but the Huskers knocked off the nationally ranked Shockers, 4-3 on Feb. 26, and days later the Huskers were in the heart of the national rankings themselves.

The Big Red's outstanding start to the season catapulted Nebraska to the No. 39 spot in the ITA team rankings to open the month of March.

At 12-0, NU swept Houston and Illinois State at the Dillon Center March 4-5 to improve to 14-0.

The following weekend, the Huskers welcomed Purdue to the Dillon Tennis Center for their second Big Ten match and improved to 2-0 in conference play with a 5-2 victory over the Boilermakers.

Although the Huskers appeared poised for a run in the Big Ten, unexpected adversity hit the Nebraska lineup on a Spring Break trip to California.

One of Nebraska's top players, Katerina Matysova, was knocked out of the lineup with a non-tennis health condition before NU's match at Cal State Fullerton.

Entering the trip, Matysova was truly dominant in the heart of the Husker lineup, posting a perfect 12-0 singles record while dropping just one set all season. She was also 5-0 in spring doubles play.

Without Matysova, the Huskers dropped a 4-1 decision to the Titans, before heading to Minneapolis to face the Golden Gophers to start a nine-game stretch against Big Ten foes.

UNDERCLASSMEN ADD ENERGY TO NEBRASKA

Nebraska fell 4-3 to the Gophers on March 25, before rebounding with a 5-2 victory at Wisconsin the following day to improve to 16-2 overall and 3-1 in the Big Ten.

Without Matysova, the Huskers split home matches with No. 40 Northwestern and Illinois the next weekend. She returned to the lineup against Penn State on April 7, sweeping her singles match to help the Huskers to a 5-2 victory over the Nittany Lions, giving the Huskers a perfect 16-0 record with Matysova in the lineup on the year.

However, Matysova's health did not allow her to return the rest of the season. The Huskers closed the regular season with four consecutive losses, including setbacks to a pair of top-10 teams Ohio State and at Michigan.

With Matysova, Nebraska was 16-0. Without her, NU went 3-8 with three losses to top-10 foes.

Although Matysova went 26-1 in singles sets during the spring, her absence from the Husker lineup reached further than just her victories. The shuffling in Nebraska's lineup likely cost the Huskers wins in other spots, especially the 4-3 loss at Minnesota and a 4-3 loss at Iowa in the regular-season finale on April 22.

While the loss of Matysova hurt the Huskers in the win column in 2016-17, her absence helped the Big Red grow and become stronger as several young Huskers stepped into the spotlight.

Paula Del Cueto Castillo battled back from injury the previous year for a stellar singles season. The sophomore from Sevilla, Spain produced 12 victories out of the top positions on the court. She added a team-best five wins in Big Ten play. She also recorded 12 doubles wins with help from senior teammate Mary Hanna.

Off the court, Del Cueto Castillo was a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar, Academic All-Big Ten and earned Nebraska's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award.

Claire Reifeis produced one of the most impressive first seasons for the Big Red in recent memory. The freshman from Indianapolis paced the Huskers in every level of play.

Reifeis posted a team-best 24-8 record in doubles play (7-3 Big Ten), the majority of which came with fellow freshman Hayley Haakenstad.

Reifeis added team-high, 20 singles victories, playing out of the No. 1, 2 and 3 positions.

Haakenstad added to the success of the Husker freshmen by notching 30 combined victories in singles and doubles. Fellow freshman Jeannie Lozowski contributed 24 combined wins for NU.

While the freshmen provided many reasons for optimism in the future, seniors Hanna and Lisa Andersson supplied outstanding leadership throughout the 2016-17 campaign.

Hanna compiled 37 combined victories in singles and doubles play as a senior to finish with 126 total career wins. Hanna was also honored with the Nebraska Student-Athlete HERO Leadership Award in 2016.

Andersson, a four-year starter in the Husker lineup from Varberg, Sweden, played out of the No. 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 spots for the Big Red as a senior. The veteran amassed 13 wins as a singles player, two of which came from Big Ten play. She added 17 doubles wins in 2016-17.

Andersson finished with 105 combined wins (47 singles, 58 doubles) in her career. She also earned her bachelor's degree in May of 2017 as a three-time All-Big Ten selection and a six-time member of the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll.

Freshman doubles duo Claire Reifeis (left) and Hayley Haakenstad (right) made waves as the most successful doubles team for the Big Red in 2017. The pair notched an impressive 15-6 overall record on the court last season.

THIS IS NEBRASKA WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Nebraska Women's Tennis Program welcomed the dawn of a new era in 2016 with the opening of the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center on the University of Nebraska campus.

The Dillon Center features world-class competitive and training facilities to put the Husker program on track to compete with the nation's best.

The complex showcases 12 outdoor and six indoor courts, while featuring combined seating for 1,400 spectators.

SID AND HAZEL DILLON TENNIS CENTER

The Nebraska women's tennis program entered a new era in 2015-16 with the move into the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center. Located just north of Nebraska's Innovation Campus, the elite practice and competition facility will rank among the nation's best.

The tennis facility includes 12 well-lit outdoor courts and six indoor courts with Olympic-quality surfaces. The indoor facility also has coaches offices, spacious team locker and meeting rooms, and convenient athletic medicine areas.

The indoor and outdoor tennis areas of the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center also feature combined seating for 1,400 spectators and plenty of more space for fans to stand and cheer on all the Huskers.

The world-class facility should help the Husker tennis programs continue their rise in national prominence in the years to come.

Top: The main entrance of the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center faces the new Hibner Soccer Stadium and outdoor tennis courts. The state-of-the-art facility includes 1,400 seats for spectators and features 12 well-lit outdoor courts and six indoor courts.

Middle: Inside the front doors of the tennis center a grand glass staircase leads to men's and women's tennis and soccer coaching offices. Also located on the upper level is access to spectator seating for the six indoor tennis courts.

Bottom: The women's tennis locker room includes spacious and stylish wood lockers to house equipment and belongings. The Huskers enjoy inviting locker room and meeting rooms just steps away from new athletic medicine areas.

TRAINING, COMPETING FOR TITLES

Top and Middle Left: An elevated walkway provides Nebraska tennis fans with a unique view of action and easy access to seating at any one of the 12 outdoor tennis courts. Multiple scoreboards and ample lighting are just a few of the fabulous fan amenities of the complex.

Middle Right and Bottom: The Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center includes vibrant new indoor tennis courts. Located off the staircase on the upper level of the complex, fans can enjoy stadium seating and a panoramic view of action on the six full-size indoor courts.

The University of Nebraska's Soccer and Tennis Complex was dedicated on Friday, Sept. 25, 2015, with a ribbon cutting ceremony in front of the complex, officially marking the dawn of a new era for the Nebraska tennis programs.

Providing expert care to more than 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country. Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber, the 2017-18 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five physicians, 13 full-time athletic trainers, eight graduate assistant athletic trainers, two full-time in-house athletic psychologists and sports psychiatry consultants who work directly with student-athletes.

Nebraska's medical facilities have long been among the nation's best, and NU's athletic medicine center within the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex will keep the Huskers on the front line of technology for decades to come. In addition to Nebraska's North Stadium facility, Haymarket Park, the Bob Devaney Sports Center, Pinnacle Bank Arena and the Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex all feature athletic medicine areas. The Devaney Center's Athletic Medicine facility underwent an extensive expansion as part of the Hendricks Training Complex addition in 2011.

CARING FOR HUSKERS

Nebraska uses advanced equipment to help athletes recondition after injury.

Nebraska's Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment.

The hot and cold plunge tanks in the Holthus Family Hydrotherapy area help the Huskers recover after workouts and injuries.

Nebraska's on-site medical services for student-athletes rank among the nation's best. Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer Jerry Weber (pictured) and the Athletic Medicine staff have their own X-ray equipment at Memorial Stadium.

NAPL: INTEGRATING SPORT

The Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) is recognized as the first performance research center within a collegiate department of athletics. The NAPL features a talented, multidisciplinary team that includes a full-time director, assistant director and biomarker lab director, and two research post-doctoral fellows.

Located in East Memorial Stadium adjacent to UNL's Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3), the NAPL collaborates with Nebraska's Performance staff and athletic programs to offer the highest level of integration of sport performance technologies and systems.

The NAPL is made up of the Mark and Debra Classen Cardio Area, James and Karen Linder Dynamic Performance Center, Markin Family Collaborative Center, Thayer Family Athletic Research Lab and cutting-edge equipment donated by the Suzanne and Walter Scott Foundation. The main entrance for the research facilities is located in the Janet and Gerard Keating Family Concourse.

Focused on student-athlete health, safety and welfare, the NAPL is a world-leading research and performance facility focusing on the performance enhancement, safety and long-term well-being of student-athletes.

The NAPL includes simulated athletic environments for studying performance, incorporating a camera system to track human motion capture videos (3D) to measure athletes in their development through testing results to create an athletic performance index for each athlete, force plates to measure ground reaction forces and state-of-the-art technology to assess physiological limitations and biomarkers, investigate exercise cardiovascular capacity and measure body composition.

All 24 Husker athletic programs conduct performance testing at NAPL. Force plates and motion capture videos (3D) are used to measure athletes in their development through testing results to create an athletic performance index for each athlete.

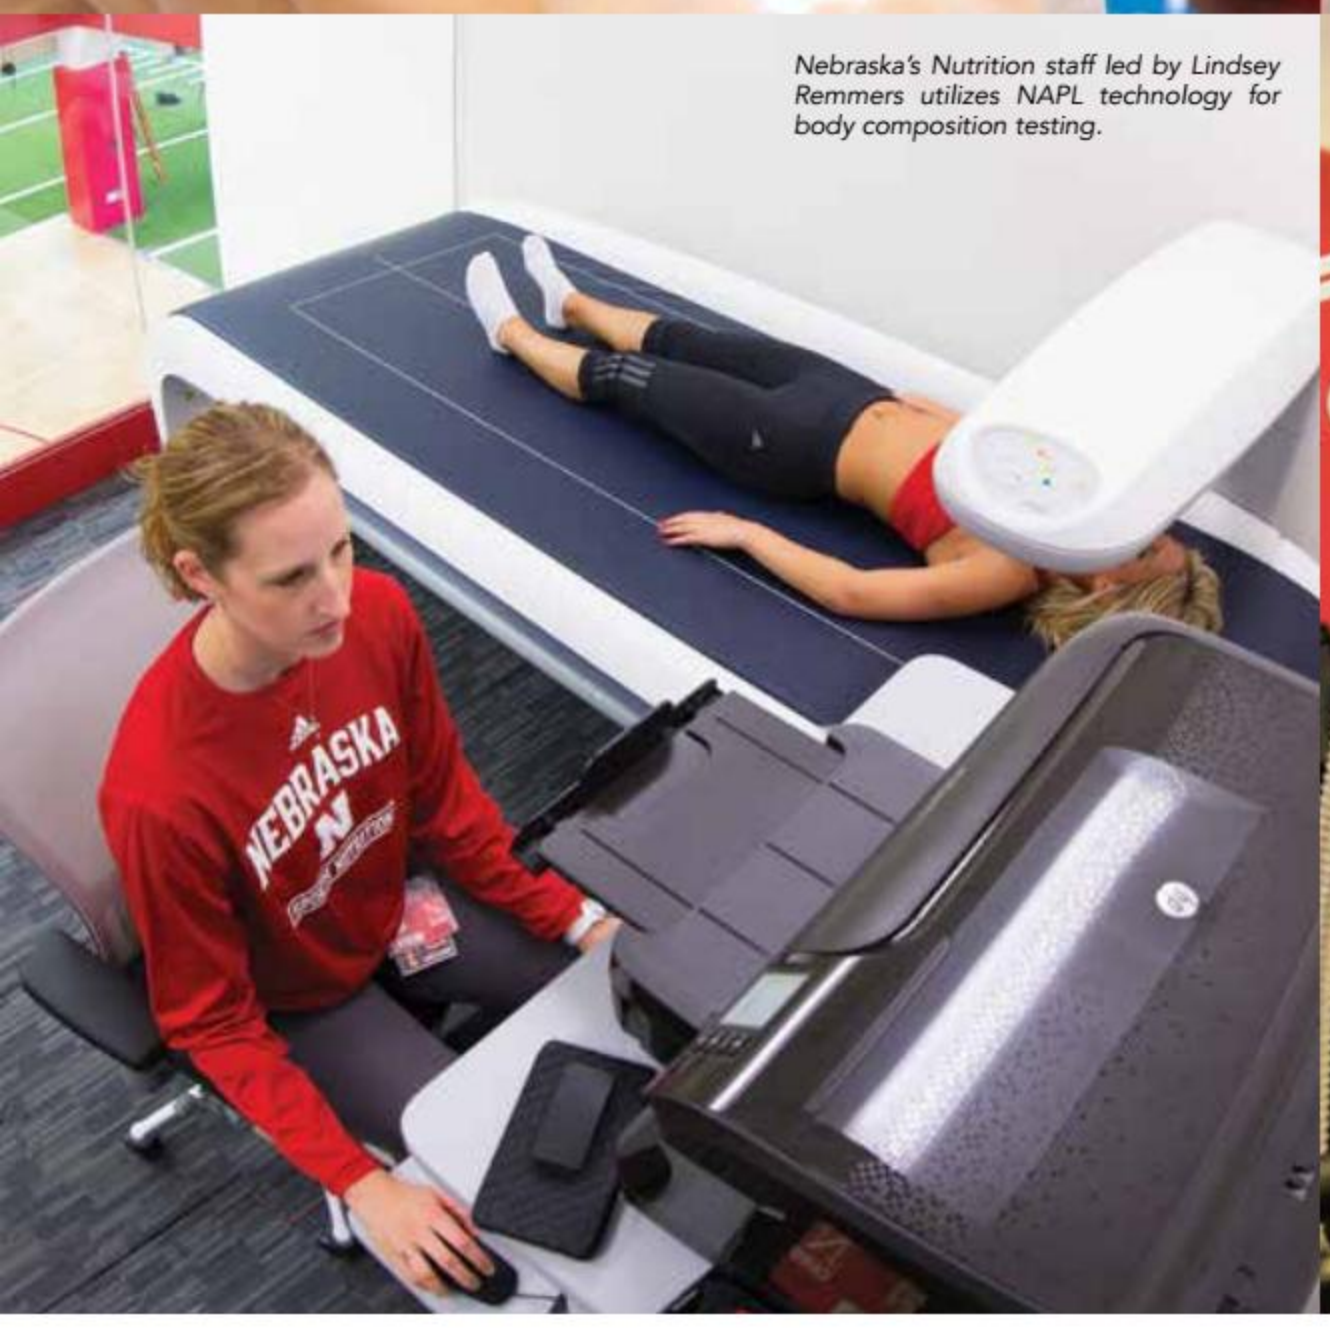
The NAPL uses IDexa as an advanced, accurate and reliable method to analyze and measure body composition.

The focus of the Thayer Family Athletic Research Lab is recovery from competition, travel and all stressors a student athlete might experience by measuring salivary biomarkers hours prior to and up to 24 hours post-competition.

PERFORMANCE, RESEARCH

Researchers in the Thayer Family Athletic Research Lab measure salivary biomarkers to focus on recovery.

Nebraska's Strength and Conditioning team utilizes NAPL facilities and equipment to optimize performance testing across all 24 Husker sports.



Nebraska's Nutrition staff led by Lindsey Remmers utilizes NAPL technology for body composition testing.

Equipment, technology, researchers and student-athletes come together in the Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory to put the Huskers on the cutting edge of sport science.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-America awards to 329 with four selections in 2016-17. Senior track standout Drew Wiseman (Bismarck, N.D., Electrical Engineering) was named the CoSIDA Men's Track and Field Academic All-American of the Year while claiming the second first-team Academic All-America award of his career. Wiseman was named Nebraska's Male Student-Athlete of the Year and ended his career as a six-time All-American. Women's track and field star Tierra Williams (Auburn, Neb.) was named Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year. She was a seven-time All-America jumper and a 2016 Big Ten Distinguished Scholar. Wiseman and Williams, (pictured right), were Nebraska's 2016-17 Big Ten Medal of Honor winners.

The Nebraska men's track and field team continued its extraordinary run of CoSIDA Academic All-America success with Wiseman's first-team selection. Four-time volleyball All-American Kadie Rolfzen (Papillion, Neb., Advertising & Public Relations) was also a first-team Academic All-American, as was All-Big Ten soccer player Caroline Flynn (Lincoln, Neb., Communication Studies). A 2016 second-team All-American on the balance beam, gymnast Danielle Breen (Ames, Iowa, Accounting) earned second-team Academic All-America honors in the Women's At-Large division.

Overall, 126 Husker student-athletes earned undergraduate and graduate degrees in three commencement exercises at Pinnacle Bank Arena in 2016-17.

A total of 126 Nebraska student-athletes earned their degrees in 2016-17, including 54 in May 2017, 57 in December 2016 and 15 in August 2016. Mary Hanna (above left) from Saline, Mich., claimed her bachelor's degree as an advertising and public relations major in May of 2017. Katerina Matysova (above middle) added her bachelor's degree in May of 2017 after just three years of undergraduate work as a psychology major. Matysova is pursuing a master's degree for the Huskers while competing as a senior in 2018. Lisa Andersson (above right) from Varberg, Sweden, earned her bachelor's degree as a marketing major in May of 2017. Nebraska's three May graduates in 2017 combined for eight academic All-Big Ten awards and seven appearances on the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team.

HONORING ACHIEVEMENT

Five Huskers earned Outstanding Scholar Awards in 2016-17. The seniors with 3.900 GPAs or better were Emily Wood (women's basketball, pictured above); Caroline Flynn (soccer); Jennie Laeng (women's gymnastics); Kelly Schatz (soccer); and Drew Wiseman (men's track and field). Wood earned her bachelor's degree in management from Nebraska in just three years and is attending graduate school while playing as a senior in 2017-18.

Volleyball standout Kadie Roflzen earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in 2016. Rolfzen, a two-time first-team AVCA All-American, became just the third volleyball player in school history to earn four All-America awards, joining Husker Olympians Jordan Larson and Sarah Pavan. Rolfzen was also an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipient in 2017.

Drew Wiseman was the CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year for Men's Track and Field in 2017. A two-time NCAA Elite 90 recipient, Wiseman was also a six-time All-American on the track, earning accolades in both the 400-meter hurdles and the 4x400-meter relay.

Danielle Breen garnered CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in 2017 after helping the Huskers win the Big Ten regular-season title. Breen was also a second-team All-American on the balance beam and a two-time All-Big Ten performer.

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

"I've had the privilege to tour the new soccer/tennis complex. I literally was awestruck with everything that I saw. What an incredible facility and what a powerful recruiting tool this will be for future student-athletes. They've built such an incredible indoor and outdoor tennis facility. It reminded me of how awestruck I was when I was recruited."

Liz (Mooney) Shaffer
1986 NCAA Women's Tennis All-American
2015 Nebraska Athletics Hall of Fame Inductee

The athletic academic unit, located in the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex, provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is composed of 14 full-time staff members and is certified by the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) as meeting the standards established by the N4A.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING
Seven academic counselors, three learning specialists and two assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT
A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support from approximately 120 tutors on staff is available from day one up to college graduation in all subject areas. The tutorial program is certified as a model tutoring program by the College Reading and Learning Association.

STUDY HALL
Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Student-athletes are required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall also may be determined by the academic counselor.

MENTORING
Academic support staff serve as mentors to all incoming student-athletes and a select group of returning student-athletes. Student-athletes meet with their mentor weekly to develop time management skills, gather and report academic progress information, and discuss academic success strategies.

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENTS
Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach. Learning specialists are available to administer and score informal assessments, which include a reading comprehension and a writing assessment. When more in-depth assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined a student-athlete has a learning disability or another medical condition that impedes the student from reaching their academic potential, appropriate accommodations are implemented by the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ORIENTATION
Each new student-athlete attends an orientation at the beginning of their academic career. Student-athletes are introduced to staff, faculty, administrators, and a variety of resources that help facilitate the transition into college while enhancing awareness of support services in the Athletic Department and across campus.

PERSONAL COUNSELING
Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

COMPUTER RESOURCES
The Herman Student Life Complex has two computer labs available for student-athletes. The Scott Technology Center features two tech tables for use on group computer projects and group study sessions. Additionally, each student-athlete is provided a laptop for use throughout their academic career at Nebraska.

Renovations to the Nebraska Student Life Complex nearly tripled the size of NU's previous academic space in 2010. The Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex also features a new technology center and a dedicated Life Skills area and the Papik Computer lab (left).

NEBRASKA LIFE SKILLS

Regarded as the premier and most comprehensive Life Skills program in college athletics, the Husker program is committed to providing proactive education, resources and support through college and beyond to promote total person development and preparation for life after sports. Led by Senior Associate Athletic Director Keith Zimmer, five full-time staff members coordinate community involvement, career planning, communication strategies and much more to benefit Husker student-athletes.

In May of 2017, 22 student-athletes traveled to Nicaragua as part of the NoFilter program to serve abroad with Seeds of Learning, a nonprofit organization that helps to create educational opportunities in rural Latin America. Over the course of one week, these Huskers experienced a new culture, created new friendships and relationships, and most importantly, helped build additional classrooms for a school in the town of Villa Japón.

In August of 2014, the NCAA Division I Board of Directors restructured the way member institutions and conferences, including the Big Ten, govern themselves. Nebraska has a great history and tradition of providing unmatched benefits and support to student-athletes. However, this change in governance, and subsequent legislation, paved the way for Nebraska to enhance the benefits and experiences for student-athletes. A few examples of these enhanced benefits are:

- All scholarship student-athletes across all sports have their scholarship calculated based on the full cost of attendance.
- Each student-athlete is offered an Apple MacBook Air laptop computer to enhance their learning opportunities.
- Nebraska has increased resources and support in all academic and performance related areas including but not limited to Academic Services, Life Skills, Athletic Medicine, Athletic Training, Strength and Conditioning, Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory, Nutrition and Dining Services (Training Table) and Sports Analytics.
- Nebraska created the first-known Post-Eligibility Opportunity (PEO) program, where every student-athlete graduate who has exhausted their athletic eligibility has the opportunity to pursue (with Nebraska support) an internship, participate in a study abroad program or attend graduate school at UNL or UNMC.

HONORING ACHIEVEMENT

Lisa Andersson (left) and Katerina Matysova were two of the Nebraska women's tennis players honored for their academic and community contributions at the 2017 Night at the Lied awards ceremony in April. Andersson and Matysova were both academic All-Big Ten selections and members of the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team.

LIFE SKILLS AWARDS

Mary Hanna captured a prestigious Nebraska Student-Athlete HERO Leadership Award in 2016. The award is presented to NU's most committed student-athletes to community service across all sports. A three-time member of the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team, Hanna was also a three-time academic All-Big Ten selection.

EXPERIENCE THE WORLD

SERVICE TO A MUCH LARGER COMMUNITY

The Nebraska Life Skills program offered its third service trip abroad in 2017, taking more than 20 student-athletes and staff members to Nicaragua, including Husker women's tennis assistant coach German Dalmagro (below left). The Huskers also have taken service trips to Guatemala (2015) and the Dominican Republic (2016).

N CLUB: HUSKERS FOR LIFE

PROACTIVE EDUCATION

The Life Skills team organizes several orientations aimed at acclimating student-athletes to college life. Additionally, all incoming student-athletes attend the fall semester Husker Life Seminar. This interactive class promotes responsible decision-making, personal brand, financial literacy, leadership, involvement and service.

INDIVIDUAL MEETINGS

Every Nebraska student-athlete is assigned a Life Skills staff member who will assist with personal and career development. The meetings help each student-athlete identify a career focus and implement a plan to increase career marketability.

CAREER COMMITMENT & NETWORKING

Annually, Nebraska Life Skills organizes a Student-Athlete Career Fair, Networking Night and other career events aimed at connecting Huskers with companies desiring competitive, hard-working, accountable candidates. Athlete Network and Husker Hire Link provide opportunities to explore career options across the country.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Nebraska student-athletes readily accept the role-model challenge, collectively giving more than 7,500 hours annually to impact thousands across the state of Nebraska. Outreach events include but are not limited to hospital visits, mentoring, school assemblies, statewide rallies (including the Sportsmanship 4 Life Pep Rally), Make-A-Wish, School is Cool and Husker Heroes.

LEADERSHIP

Nebraska Life Skills provides student-athletes with countless opportunities to enhance leadership skills while distinguishing themselves from the competition. Student-athletes can be members of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Uplifting Athletes Chapter or Inner Circle. UNL offers more than 600 recognized student organizations allowing athletes to collaborate with other campus leaders for common goals. Nebraska Life Skills funds and coordinates an annual one-week service abroad trip that allows 20 student-athletes to work together toward a common goal while enriching cultural competencies.

RECOGNITION

In 2016-17, a record 386 Husker student-athletes were named to the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team for completing a minimum of six service projects in the calendar year. A host of other recognition opportunities at the institutional, Big Ten and NCAA levels that all reflect the high ideals, character and servant leadership nurtured through community involvement also are available.

POST-ELIGIBILITY OPPORTUNITIES

Effective December 2015 and beyond, student-athletes who letter and graduate will have a three-year window to benefit from one of three post-eligibility opportunities each valued at $7,500. Upon completion of required seminars, graduates can either study abroad, complete an internship or begin graduate school at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln or the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The Life Skills program also is responsible for all Diversity and Inclusion initiatives for Husker Athletics. Since 2016, the Diversity and Inclusion Summit has reached all student-athletes and staff members with programming emphasizing respect, acceptance and unity. Numerous other special events are coordinated in collaboration with campus departments highlighting the diversity within Husker Nation.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Nebraska Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration. Nebraska, which joined the Big Ten Conference in 2011, is a member of the Big Ten Academic Alliance, a consortium of Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago, which has generated unique opportunities for students and faculty by sharing expertise, leveraging resources and collaborating on programs.

BIG TEN ACADEMIC ALLIANCE (BTAA)

As a member of the Big Ten, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) is a member of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (BTAA), formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, which is the academic consortium of the universities in the Big Ten Conference. The consortium was renamed on June 29, 2016. The BTAA includes all 14 Big Ten Institutions and the University of Chicago. The Big Ten Academic Alliances and the institutions together have annual research expenditures topping $10.2 billion — more than the Ivy League and the University of California System combined — and they educate a total of nearly 600,000 students with approximately 50,000 full-time faculty members.

CHAMPIONS IN ATHLETICS, ACADEMICS, LIFE

The Nebraska women's tennis program has established itself as a national contender. In 2013, the Huskers advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and played host to the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament for the first time. It was Nebraska's sixth NCAA appearance in an eight-year span.

Coach Scott Jacobson is in his 27th season as the winningest coach in Nebraska tennis history. He helped 2013 All-American Mary Weatherholt to a second-place finish at the 2013 NCAA Singles Championship. Weatherholt added an NCAA Elite Eight finish alongside fellow 2013 All-American Patricia Veresova in doubles. Weatherholt also captured Nebraska's nation-leading 17th NCAA Top Ten Award, after being named Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year.

Left: Mary Weatherholt set the all-time record for career wins at 208, the first and only women's player in Nebraska history to surpass the 200-win mark. Weatherholt was the 2013 NCAA Singles runner-up, 2013 NCAA/ITA All-American in both singles and doubles, Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete-of-the-year in both 2012 and 2013 and earned the NCAA Top Ten Award for her performance on the court, in the classroom and community.

Right: Gitte Ostermann (top) was a three-time All-Big 12 pick and led NU to its first-ever NCAA Tournament team appearance in 2005. Imke Reimers (bottom) was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American at Nebraska and earned a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship in 2008.
